A NEVADA SONGSTRESS.—The Examiner of last Sunday says:

"The State of Nevada has a pretty and promising representative among the Bostonians in the person of Miss Flora Finlayson. She has not had any conspicuous opportunity to show her voice or her dramatic talent, but she has done all her work well, and has deserved the approval of all the audiences before which she has appeared."

WHAT ON EARTH—Is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nostrums put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? SENATOR STEWART'S VIEWS.

Why He Opposes the Plan of Secretary Windom.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Senator Stewart of Nevada, in a published interview, sharply criticises Secretary Windom's attitude on the silver question. The Senator asserts that it is Secretary Windom's policy to demonetize silver. The Secretary, the Senator says, confounds the silver question with the money question. The business of the country is suffering badly for the want of money, and what the silver men ask is that more be created. The provisions of the Windom bill, giving the Secretary discretionary power in the purchase of silver bullion, is attacked on the ground that past experience with Secretaries of the Treasury shows this to be unwise.

The bullion redemption feature of the Windom bill is also attacked, the Senator declaring that its object is to make gold the sole standard of money.

What the advocates of silver want, the Senator concludes, is a constant and regular supply of money to meet the legitimate demands of the country, and they do not want to place it in the power of bankers or Treasury officials to expand or contract the currency to meet the demands of speculators in property or money. The general tenor of the whole interview is that the silver men want silver recognized as a money metal, and the do not consider that the Windom bill is such a measure.

THE IMPROVED PHONOGRAPHS.—Some months ago, the editor of the APPEAL exhibited what was known as the "Edison Perfected Phonograph." The machine, while it was regarded as a wonderful invention, has given way to one still more wonderful and much more simple, also invented by Edison. It combines the receiving and reproducing diaphragm in one and is wholly automatic. The old machine required great skill and practice in adjustment and not one in ten could adjust it so as to reproduce. The new machine does away with all the complicated parts and the operator has only to drop the diaphragm bar and it is ready to take sound impressions. The turn of a lever makes the same diaphragm a reproducer and a child of ten can operate it. The new machine is now on exhibition at the APPEAL office, where orders will be taken.

TUSCARORA'S DISCOUNT LOSS.—The discount on the silver bullion produced at the last run of the Union mill, resulted in a loss to Commonwealth company of upwards of $118,000, or more than enough to cover the expenses of running the mill and mine during the time the mill was in operation. These figures will enable our citizens to form some idea of the loss this district has sustained in all of these years on account of the opposition of Wall street, Congress and our National Administrations to the white metal. Isn't it about time for our people to ask themselves how long this thing is to continue, and to resolve in the future to vote as they talk and to do a little independent thinking and acting, without guidance from the blatant politicians of their party?—Times Review.

A Fighting Alderman.

DENVER, April 23.—Alderman Walter Conway last evening made a brutal and unprovoked assault on W. H. Griffith, manager of the Evening Times, the motive for which was the criticisms which the Times has been making on corruption in the City Council. The Alderman spat in the editor's face and hit him a stinging blow on the nose. Griffith afterwards got a gun and went hunting for Conway, but failed to find him. The Alderman is charged with being one of the slickest members of the municipal machine.

THE FAKE LOTTERY.

Miss Hiller's swindling lottery for children is still going about the State holding out all sorts of gambling inducements to the young which it does not fulfill. It advertises gold and silver money showers, nuts, candies and tropical fruits. When the show held forth in this city it distributed about ten pounds of cheap candy to the children: not good, wholesome candy, but the cheap red and white mess of paint and boiled sugar. Yet, while the miserable little fake lottery is sneaking about the country, not one of the moral anti-lottery organs have ever devoted a line to exposing it as a humbug. Here was a fine field for the journalistic moralist, who really meant business, but not a squeak from one of them anywhere along the line. This combination has sneaked in and out of nearly every town in Nevada, where it has publicly run its fake lottery to swindle little school children, and it has not met with a protest outside the Enterprise and APPEAL.

If they Have the Nerve.—The Times Review says: Perhaps after all the dissension in the caucus will result eventually to the benefit of the co-metallic cause. It certainly will if the Republican silver men have the nerve to carry out the threat of some of their number, as mentioned in the dispatch. Let them cast off their party shackles, introduce a free coinage bill, invite co-operation of their political opponents, enact the law, and let the President dare to veto it if he will. The people of the West, irrespective of party, will applaud their courage and and ratify their act. They will further so manifest their resolution to be no longer bound by partisan chains to Wall street's golden chariot, that neither of the great National parties will dare to submit in the next presidential campaign, a candidate or policy not unquestionably in sympathy with and directly pledged to the support of the bi-metallic cause.

Ultra Prohibition.

We understand that on Sunday last it was impossible for any guest in a hotel in this city to obtain a glass of wine or a glass of beer for his dinner. We are decidedly too far West for any such foolishness as that, and when the law prohibits the selling of whiskey on Sunday it means simply that saloons where liquors are generally sold shall be closed; it does not mean that private gentlemen in their own homes or guests in a hotel, shall not, if they desire it, have a glass of wine for dinner.—Salt Lake Tribune.

The Times-Review has the following:

Lost—A light, spiral twisted cane with a round black knob for a head. Although of but trifling value, intrinsically, it is highly prized by the owner as the gift of a cherished friend now in the penitentiary at Carson. The finder will inspire a reportorial blessing by leaving it at the Times-Review office.
